

2012 Kurt Schork Awards in International Journalism Application Form

APPLICATION DEADLINE: 31 May 2012

NOTE: Failure to include all the materials requested – or use of ineligible file formats - may result in your entry being disqualified.

PLEASE CHOOSE ONE OF THE TWO CATEGORIES

- Local Reporter covering local stories. By ticking this box I, the applicant, attest that I am a local reporter.
- Freelance Journalist covering international news. By ticking this box I, the applicant, attest that I am a freelance journalist and not a full-time staff employee of a news organization.

PERSONAL DETAILS (fields in bold are mandatory)

Last Name

First Name

Gender  Male  Female

Nationality

Current Address (include Country)

Permanent Address (if different)

Date of birth

Country of birth

Home telephone (with country code)

Mobile/cellphone (with country code)

E-mail

Have you enclosed/attached your CV (education and journalistic experience)?

Are you including a passport size/type photo?

How did you find out about these awards?

By signing below I confirm that the information supplied in this form is true to the best of my knowledge and that I am the author of the submitted article(s)

Date

Signature

Use following page(s) to accompany your submitted article(s)

2012 Kurt Schork Awards in International Journalism Application Form

NOTE: You can enter up to 3 articles which must have been published within the eligible period (see guide notes at <http://www.ksmfund.org/awards/submitting-entries/next-call>).

Please use this page for Entry No. 1 and following pages for other entries

Entry No. 1

(fields in bold are mandatory)

Article headline

Publication format  Newspaper  Magazine  Website

Date of publication

Publication name

Circulation (if published in print media)

Country of publication

Have you enclosed a copy of the article in a text format document (MS Word or similar, or a pdf of a text file)?

If your original article is not in English, have you provided a full translation?

Have you included a statement providing the story background and context?

You may add further supporting material, such as  a scan of your published article and/or

Article URL (if available online)

If your entry is shortlisted, you will be contacted by e-mail and asked to provide a signed letter from your editor supporting your submission and confirming your employment status. Winners will be contacted and announced publicly in September 2012. If we have not contacted you by mid-October 2012, we regret to advise you will not have been successful on this occasion. We encourage you to apply next year.

More information on eligibility:

Local Reporter: Print journalists employed by a local news outlet and residing in a developing country or nation in transition (non-OECD or EU countries), whose work has been published in a local publication, are eligible. Although individual journalists are the primary focus, submissions will also be considered from a team of journalists.

Freelance Journalist: All freelance print journalists and those contracted by news organizations are eligible. Freelance journalists are individuals who are not employed by a news organization. They are self-employed, providing services either on the basis of time or on the production of editorial materials as defined by individual contractual arrangements, and earn the majority of their income from journalism.

Eligible media: Entries are welcomed from all types of print-based media, including newspapers and magazines, and established online publications. Blogs and personal websites are not eligible.

2012 Kurt Schork Awards in International Journalism Application Form

NOTE: You can enter up to 3 articles which must have been published within the eligible period (see guide notes at <http://www.ksmfund.org/awards/submitting-entries/next-call>).

Please use this page if submitting a second entry, and next page for a third entry

Entry No. 2

(fields in bold are mandatory)

Article headline

Publication format  Newspaper  Magazine  Website

Date of publication

Publication name

Circulation (if published in print media)

Country of publication

Have you enclosed a copy of the article in a text format document (MS Word or similar, or a pdf of a text file)?

If your original article is not in English, have you provided a full translation?

Have you included a statement providing the story background and context?

You may add further supporting material, such as  a scan of your published article and/or

Article URL (if available online)

If your entry is shortlisted, you will be contacted by e-mail and asked to provide a signed letter from your editor supporting your submission and confirming your employment status. Winners will be contacted and announced publicly in September 2012. If we have not contacted you by mid-October 2012, we regret to advise you will not have been successful on this occasion. We encourage you to apply next year.

More information on eligibility:

Local Reporter: Print journalists employed by a local news outlet and residing in a developing country or nation in transition (non-OECD or EU countries), whose work has been published in a local publication, are eligible. Although individual journalists are the primary focus, submissions will also be considered from a team of journalists.

Freelance Journalist: All freelance print journalists and those contracted by news organizations are eligible. Freelance journalists are individuals who are not employed by a news organization. They are self-employed, providing services either on the basis of time or on the production of editorial materials as defined by individual contractual arrangements, and earn the majority of their income from journalism.

Eligible media: Entries are welcomed from all types of print-based media, including newspapers and magazines, and established online publications. Blogs and personal websites are not eligible.

2012 Kurt Schork Awards in International Journalism Application Form

NOTE: You can enter up to 3 articles which must have been published within the eligible period (see guide notes at <http://www.ksmfund.org/awards/submitting-entries/next-call>).

Please use this page if you are submitting a third entry.

Entry No. 3

(fields in bold are mandatory)

Article headline

Publication format  Newspaper  Magazine  Website

Date of publication

Publication name

Circulation (if published in print media)

Country of publication

Have you enclosed a copy of the article in a text format document (MS Word or similar, or a pdf of a text file)?

If your original article is not in English, have you provided a full translation?

Have you included a statement providing the story background and context?

You may add further supporting material, such as  a scan of your published article and/or

Article URL (if available online)

If your entry is shortlisted, you will be contacted by e-mail and asked to provide a signed letter from your editor supporting your submission and confirming your employment status. Winners will be contacted and announced publicly in September 2012. If we have not contacted you by mid-October 2012, we regret to advise you will not have been successful on this occasion. We encourage you to apply next year.

More information on eligibility:

Local Reporter: Print journalists employed by a local news outlet and residing in a developing country or nation in transition (non-OECD or EU countries), whose work has been published in a local publication, are eligible. Although individual journalists are the primary focus, submissions will also be considered from a team of journalists.

Freelance Journalist: All freelance print journalists and those contracted by news organizations are eligible. Freelance journalists are individuals who are not employed by a news organization. They are self-employed, providing services either on the basis of time or on the production of editorial materials as defined by individual contractual arrangements, and earn the majority of their income from journalism.

Eligible media: Entries are welcomed from all types of print-based media, including newspapers and magazines, and established online publications. Blogs and personal websites are not eligible.